REPORT OF SCHOOLS.

The schools, ten in number, have been in session twenty-five weeks the past year; most of them under the instruction of teachers who have had a long and successful experience. A majority of the schools have made highly commendable progress and have done thorough work. Where others have come short of this high standard, the fault has been a want of proper discipline and of attention to business. No school can be successful without good government. Lax discipline and idleness usually go together. Children who are not properly governed at home are usually among the first to rebel against good discipline at school; and when corrected will often carry an evil report home to their parents, who sometimes, very unwisely, become displeased with the teacher, and there is no end to trouble that follows. The children who, at home, hear the teacher criticised and, perhaps, berated because of strict discipline, are very likely to rebel against the good order of the school room. As a rule the teachers must be allowed to select their own methods of correction in cases of disobedience, without interference from outside. No teacher will have any trouble with pupils who are studious and obedient. It is her duty to demand both diligent study and obedience. It is for this that we raise and expend our school money. If the teacher fails in this, and the scholars are allowed, day after day, to waste the time in idleness and play, the school of necessity is a failure, money is wasted, and it becomes the duty of the School Board to discharge such a teacher and employ some one who will correct these evils. The law touching these matters is as follows:— "They," the School Board, "shall dismiss any teacher who may be found by them to be unfit to teach, or whose services are found to be unprofitable." P. S., c. 92, sec. 3, p. 261.

The school buildings of the town are now in very good condition. Repairs have been made on that at the Chapel. It has been replastered on the ceiling, and the walls have been newly papered. Now it is a pleasant school room.

The town last spring voted an appropriation of $300.00, mainly with a view to repairing the school-house at Gaza,—one of the oldest in town, and in very bad condition. When the work was undertaken, it was found that the condition of the timbers and foundation was such that it was thought to be the most economical to tear the whole structure down, and build substantially a new house. But little of the old lumber could be used in the new house, so the whole foundation was relaid, deep enough to avoid the frost, and enlarged by several feet both in length and width. Upon this enlarged foundation a new house has been erected, furnished within and without in modern style, and furnished with the most improved desks and seats, so that now it is the prettiest school room in town. The cost has necessarily somewhat exceeded the appropriation; but the town now has a school building which is an honor to it, and will last, like the old one, for generations to come.

There are four school-houses in town which, at present, are standing idle, but they are in good repair. The time is not far distant, we prophesy, when they will all be needed. A population of strangers is coming in upon us with large families, and, by law, they must attend our schools.

The expenses for school books and supplies for the year have been very small as compared with several past years. The largest expense has been to meet a long felt demand of the school rooms for suitable globes for the benefit of the several classes in geography. We have placed a 12 inch globe in each of the ten school rooms, and they seem to be highly appreciated by both teachers and pupils. The Board are hoping that, as soon as is thought advisable, each school may be supplied with complete sets of school charts, the value of which can scarcely be estimated. Why should not the schools of our town be favored with facilities for education equal to those of adjoining towns?

OTIS S. SANBORN, TREASURER OF SCHOOL BOARD.

Having examined the foregoing account of the treasurer of the school board, we find it correctly cast and properly vouched.
